

Ms Angela Lim Ann Qi

Angela anchors Singapore's daily news bulletin on Channel 5, News 5.

She joined Channel NewsAsia in Feb 2016, after 5 years as a Radio Presenter/Producer on Singapore's only English news station, 938LIVE (re-branded 938NOW), where she helmed and produced a variety of current affairs programmes and talk shows. In that time, she also hosted a 'live' counselling radio show, "Between Us" for 3 years, tackling mental health and emotional wellness issues.

Across TV and radio, she's anchored and reported 'live' in breaking news events like the death of Singapore's founding Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew, the 2015 General Elections, the Bukit Batok by-elections in 2016 and the Singapore Budget 2017.

She's also interviewed key regional political figures like former Indonesian foreign minister Marty Natelegawa, ex-Malaysian foreign minister Syed Hamid and ASEAN Secretary General, Le Luong Min. Other notable interviewees include celebrity chefs Gordon Ramsay and Daniel Boulud.

Angela was also a digital journalist reporting and writing for Yahoo! News for two years, as one of the pioneer members of its editorial team.

She also has years of experience moderating 'live' forums, as well as hosting official events and charity roadshows. Angela is also a sought-after voice-over artiste, and has done voice work for organisations like LTA, Ministry of Manpower and various MNCs.
